

Write an ALP that displays a key that user presses in CAPS (you can assume that the user will enter only small alphabets). The original key that the user presses must not be displayed on screen only the CAPS must be displayed. User input in CAPS must be displayed till user enter #. # should not be displayed on the screen.