Write an ALP that will take in a single user input a number between (0-9). If the user for e.g. enters 5 then the 5th character in file tab.txt must be exchanged with the 5th character in file lab.txt. The size of files is variable but definitely greater than 10 bytes. The user input must not be displayed on the screen.